

Autoclaves

Description

Certain materials require sterilization by high pressure and high temperature steam rather than incineration.

Dutco offers autoclaves for sterilization of particularly medical wastes and accessories including scalpels, sharps, syringes, plastics, catheters, blood bags, etc.

The purpose of autoclaving is to disinfect the waste and other material and ensure safe disposal or re-use as required without any concern for infection. Autoclaves like incinerators form an integrated component of hospital waste management which requires multiple disposal options.
