

Braided Loop Joints

Description

Braided loop joint is an important solution in making piping system flexible. It's an ideal option to protect piping and equipment during earthquakes. It gives high flexibility in the pipe system. Their movements in x, y and z direction allows to absorb seismic displacements. It provides space advantages as it requires less space, fewer supports as compared to hard pipe loops.