

Chain Oils

Description

Whether as hydraulic fluid, gear oil or food grade chain oil – for various industrial applications Dutco offers a range of products which significantly contributes to a modern production and manufacturing technology as well as service and maintenance. The production programme ranges from high-quality, mineral oil based products up to extremely high-performance synthetic oils which, in addition to extended re-lubrication intervals and reduced downtime, often contribute to a reduction in the variety of products in use and thus a reduction in costs.