

Homogeneous Flooring

Description

Our homogeneous flooring is extremely versatile, durable and delivers good value for money. The subtle pattern and wide, refreshed colour collection make this flooring a popular choice when creating interiors for supporting everyday activities. The coating provides a better base for future maintenance with wax or polish.

With a colour range that mixes classic standards and contemporary trends, our models are ideal solution for the education, retail and commercial sectors. We also provide non-linear designs that are totally new for homogeneous floorings in this segment. Our products contain non-phthalate plasticizers and contribute to an optimal indoor air quality with VOC emissions below quantifiable level.
