

Marshall

Description

Designed for applications requiring multi-purpose loading systems, such as road construction projects in either mobile or fixed labs, educational institutions and consulting firms, the Load frame Marshall is ideal for just about any application from road construction to high-volume commercial and educational laboratories.

Features

- Hi-res, waterproof, touch-screen provides total control and real-time graphical display of tests.
- Machine /Test control and data acquisition via touch-screen.
- Control up to 4 different tests at the same time.
- Calibration of channels to load cells, transducers and other suitable instruments.
- Real-time graphical chart and numerical display of tests via touch-screen display.